

12. A streetcar is freely coasting (no friction) around a large circular track. It is then switched to a small circular track. When coasting on the smaller circle its linear speed is

1. greater
2. less.
3. unchanged.

